Libretto Digitale

The Melbourne Town Hall

1 Oct - 13 Oct

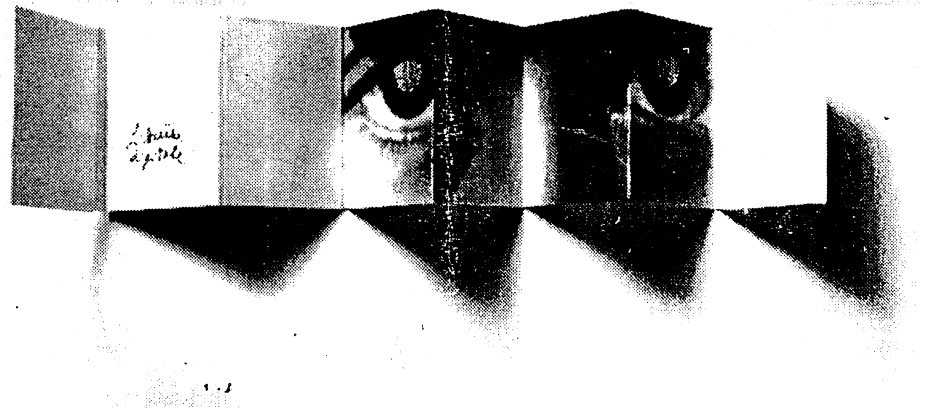

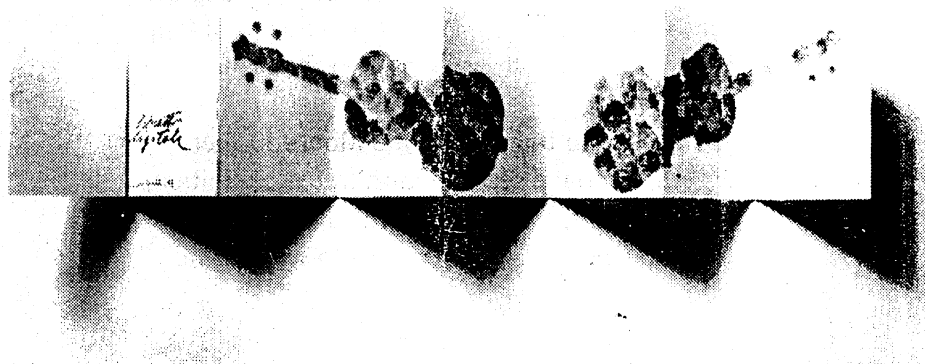

'Libretto Digitale' is an exhibition initiated by 'Il Gabbiano' Gallery in La Spezia, Italy. The exhibition consists of the works of an eclectic mix of European, Japanese and Australian artists, and is truly a unique and thoughtful show of individual works united by a theme of content and presentation. The amount of artists involved continues to grow. The exhibition to date has toured the following Italian cities, Bari, Santa Croce, La Spezia and Genova, as well as Germany.

All artists involved have produced a book using the fingerprint as a focus. Some artists have chosen to use it as a form of identification, others with musical connotations or simply just as a feature of their general style. The book consists of one folded concertina piece of paper with a paper wrapper. The edition is limited to four copies. One for the publisher, one for the artist and two for the galleries to tour.

October 1 - 13 1996

LIBRETTO DIGITALE was initiated in 1994 by Il Gabbiano Gallery in La Spezia, Italy. The project involves the work of more than one hundred artists from around the world and toured throughout Italy during 1995 and 1996.

LIBRETTO DIGITALE consists of 116 limited edition small format books and the theme uniting the work is the use of the fingerprint or digitale. Publication has been limited to editions of four only, each being an original work in itself.

I would like to thank Caroline Moore for her assistance, patience and faith in the exhibition, Lex Marinos for his support of the project, and Il Gabiano Gallery for permission to exhibit the project in Australia.
